BILL INTRODUCED

The Companies (Amendment) Bill, 2006

THE MINISTER OF COMPANY AFFAIRS (SHRI PREM CHAND GUPTA): Sir, I beg to move for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Companies Act, 1956.

The question was put and the motion was adopted.

SHRI PREM CHAND GUPTA: Sir, I introduce the Bill.

SPECIAL MENTIONS
Concern over plight of Under-trials Languishing in Prisons

SHRI SANTOSH BAGRODIA (Rajasthan): Mr. Deputy Chairman, Sir, I rise to commend the attention of this House to the alarming recurrence of the violation of human dignity in the towns and villages of India. Despite constitutional guarantees, ensuring several fundamental rights to our citizens, all the exalted pretensions of a civility come crashing down as we hold our collective conscience accountable to the plights of under-trials.

Sir, the names are there. But, it appears that I should not mention these.

MR. DEPUTY CHAIRMAN: No. That has been disallowed.

SHRI SANTOSH BAGRODIA: Okay, Sir, that is why I am not mentioning. These individuals have languished in jails for decades, without any proven crime. They are the victims of criminal apathy of our law enforcement and justice delivery system. As a State, and also as a society, we have repeatedly failed our marginalized citizens, particularly, the women. The recurring reports on sexual abuse of minor girls, and outraging the modesty of women in villages and towns, raise a serious question on our capacity to deliver timely justice and enforce what has been guaranteed in law. The law-enforcing agencies at grass root level of administration, appear to have withered away. The Government must immediately conduct a survey on the plight of under-trials in the country and expedite the legal process of those who have spent more than a year in jail, except for those who have been charged with heinous crimes and anti-national activities. It will not serve any purpose if we pass the buck on to the State Governments or other agencies. Ultimately, the credibility of the Indian State, in all its manifestations and organs, has to be upheld in the eyes of citizens. Thank you.
